The City of Oakland has launched the Oakland CARES Fund for Artists and Arts Nonprofits [CARES Arts Fund]. This is a reimbursement-based fund to mitigate COVID-19 related financial impacts suffered by individual artists (as defined in the “Program” section below) and small nonprofit arts and culture organizations. The Fund is distributing $1,425,000 to help with costs related to COVID-19, and to prevent displacement among artists and closures of arts nonprofits. Artists and public-benefiting arts organizations are the backbone of the City’s diversity and vibrancy of cultural identity and expression. The CARES Arts Fund is made possible by federal funding from the United States CARES Act, which was allocated by the State of California to the City of Oakland. Distribution of this Fund is through a partnership between the City of Oakland’s Economic & Workforce Development Department, Cultural Affairs Division and the Center for Cultural Innovation (CCI). CCI, a trusted intermediary focused on the economic security of people in the arts, is administering the CARES Arts Fund.

Given the widespread financial consequences of the COVID-19 economic shutdown, the CARES Arts Fund welcomes additional support. Please contact Laura Poppiti, CCI Grants Program Director, at laura@cciarts.org if you would like to help with a tax-deductible contribution.

BACKGROUND

The Oakland CARES Fund for Artists and Arts Nonprofits is a response to the financial impact on professional artists and nonprofit arts organizations caused by the COVID-19 economic shutdown. The large-scale shutdown has been needed to slow the spread of COVID-19, and it has continued to put the entire arts sector on hold. Artists’ ability to earn income to pay necessary expenses has been disrupted, and arts organizations’ ability to survive financially is threatened. The CARES Arts Fund is the second effort by the City of Oakland and its Cultural Affairs Department to continue helping the arts community. The East Bay/Oakland Relief Fund for Individuals in the Arts has been depleted and closed on June 5. The purpose for this new CARES Arts Fund is different, so please carefully review these guidelines.

The CARES Arts Fund will distribute support to reflect the cultural and geographic diversity of the city of Oakland—including those in historically underserved communities that are especially vulnerable financially due to this economic crisis. Although not factors in grant decisions, we strongly encourage the following with financial needs to apply: individual applicants of, or organizations that primarily serve, historically marginalized communities, which may include, but are not limited to, African and African American, Arab, Asian and Asian American, Latinx, Middle Eastern, Native American and Indigenous, Pacific Islander; Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Queer, Transgender, and Gender-Variant people; people with disabilities; women; and those who are low-income, have high debts, have difficulty obtaining or retaining sources of income, or live in immigrant and refugee communities.

Individual (non-organizational) applicants to the CARES Arts Fund will be invited to join the Bay Area Artists Relief Exchange Google Group (i.e., a listserv) that facilitates the exchange of expertise, advice, and resources (e.g., negotiating lower credit card interest rates, managing student loan debt, sharing job or space opportunities). In this time of physical isolation, the Google Group helps foster social connections, builds a shared sense of community, and creates a cooperative exchange of useful information and resources. Participation is optional.

PROGRAM

The Oakland CARES Fund for Artists and Arts Nonprofits makes available a total of $1,425,000 to artists and arts organizations. The Fund offers two categories of support:

- Individual Artists: Those who make their primary income as freelancers or employees in the arts sector. This includes fine artists, including literary, visual, and performing artists; musicians; teaching artists; culture bearers; artist members of collective-based or cooperative creative social enterprises; and specialized artist workers (e.g., lighting or sound designers, fabricators, and the like).
- Arts Organizations: Organizations that are 501(c)3 arts nonprofits; fiscally sponsored arts organizations; and 501(c)3 incorporated cultural land trusts. Arts and/or culture activities and services must be the primary function of the organization. Eligible organizations must have a yearly budget under $2.5 million based on the most recently completed fiscal year that ended before March 1, 2020.

Individuals must be current, full-time residents of Oakland, California. Arts organizations must meet two conditions: Their primary business address must be located in Oakland and they must primarily serve residents of Oakland. (If fiscally sponsored, 75% or more of your activities must be in Oakland.) Applicants do not need to be a current or previous City of Oakland applicant or grantee, and being a former or current grantee of City of Oakland does not have any bearing on whether or not you receive support from this CARES Arts Fund. Priority consideration will be given to individual applicants who did not receive funding through the East Bay/Oakland Relief Fund for Individuals in the Arts and/or the California Relief Fund for Artists and Cultural Practitioners.

The Fund will help individual artists and arts organizations that have lost income or incurred expenses due to COVID-19 and are facing an emergency regarding the payment of necessary expenses. Awards will be reimbursement-based to cover necessary costs incurred between March 1, 2020 and October 9, 2020. Applicants must describe the financial costs they have incurred due to COVID-19. Only “necessary” expenses are reimbursable, and these reimbursable expenses are divided into two eligibility categories:

1. Expenses that the applicant is unable to afford as a result of lost income due to the COVID-19 economic shutdown. Examples of such expenses include overdue rent or mortgage payments that create a risk of eviction or foreclosure; overdue utility payments that threaten service disruption; food; increased health care costs due to the loss of full-time employment benefits; accounts payable; employee salaries; repayment of loans, and overall costs to keep the artist or organization in business in the City of Oakland.

2. Expenses incurred to deal with COVID-19. Examples of such expenses include COVID-19 medical expenses; caring for family members who have been displaced or infected by COVID-19; teleworking costs; educational or daycare costs to enable working from home; purchase of PPE or other measures for COVID-19 prevention; and/or purchase of technology or other goods or services to shift business practices due to the COVID-19 shutdown.

Ineligible expenses include lobbying; legal settlements; severance pay; purchasing property; providing bonuses; taxes (unless nonpayment would cause eviction or foreclosure); or improving one's property.

Awards to individuals may be up to $3,000 and awards to organizations will range up to $20,000. The number awarded and the amount of relief grant sizes will be based on the number of applications received and, for organizations, will be scaled according to budget size. Organizations with budgets of up to $2.5 million in their FY'19 are eligible to apply.

Both individual artists and organizational applicants will be asked to describe their financial needs in detail, and are requested to apply only if facing an immediate financial emergency. This is meant to reserve as much of the CARES Arts Fund as possible for those facing significant financial threats to affording their arts business and/or remaining operational.

The CARES Arts Fund will distribute support as broadly and widely as possible throughout Oakland. When awarding funding, the CARES Arts Fund will prioritize both geographic diversity throughout Oakland, and individual applicants living in, and organizations located or performing the majority of their activities in, historically vulnerable communities. These communities are determined based on U.S. census tract data that have collective characteristics of historically vulnerable communities. The geographic factors are areas of lower-than-median income; populations primarily composed of African and African American, Latinx, Asian and Asian American, Native American and Indigenous, or Pacific Islanders; populations with concentrations of people with disabilities; or populations primarily composed of immigrant communities. The combination of these factors enable us to support those communities that will be made even more vulnerable in this economic recession.

The CARES Arts Fund will accept applications from September 21, 2020 until October 9, 2020. We will make every effort to notify applicants about their award status by October 30, 2020. If the Fund receives more application requests than funding allows, CCI will use a lottery system that is weighted to prioritize applicants based in (and, for organizations, serving those in) U.S. census tracts that predominantly have the aforementioned characteristics.

Receiving support does not require that the recipient is contracted or obligated to perform any work for CCI or the City of Oakland. Rather than a final report, grantees will receive an online survey about the impact and use of the funds. The survey responses will provide important information about how to help those in the arts.

OPERATING PRINCIPLES

CCI will operate the program with the following ethos:

- Trust: We intend to operate this Fund in a way that provides some relief from stress, anxieties, and isolation. We trust that those who apply have met the criteria and that your artistic and cultural practices, professional role, or organizational mission have been contributing to the City of Oakland’s rich and varied cultural vitality.
- Generosity: No funder can fully address the financial impacts of the coronavirus pandemic. Before applying, we ask individuals and arts organizations to self-assess their financial state of need. This way, we can stretch the Fund’s resources and help those with the most urgent needs.
- Community: We know that the arts community is resourceful, and we encourage applicants of the program to share what they need and what they can offer, particularly when it comes to advice, expertise, and resources by participating in our Google Group. If you’ve successfully re-negotiated student loan debt, pay this opportunity forward by helping someone else realize the same positive outcome. The Google Group will be porously managed, and can be open to anyone applicants of the program wish to invite. Individual artist applicants will be invited to participate, if they so choose.
